$48,000 Back in the Classroom: How Lamplighter School Reduced Technology Costs

“

I was intrigued by Revolution Office's unique business model and enjoyed the process of working with their team. The $48k in savings they offered will help us direct additional resources to students and teachers in the classroom.

The Lamplighter School is an independent, co-educational day school in Dallas, Texas for students in pre-kindergarten through fourth grade. Lamplighter offers a warm and supportive environment which inspires interest, enthusiasm, and self-confidence while pursuing academic excellence.

PROBLEM

Lamplighter School was locked into an active copier/printer lease and struggling with high printing costs. Their operations team needed to reduce expenses without interrupting essential services to staff and students. They also lacked a clear pathway to upgrade without financial penalties.

SOLUTION

Revolution Office, as the Preferred Document Technology Provider for ATLIS, reviewed Lamplighter's current lease and identified opportunities to save despite the mid-contract status. We presented a plan that included full lease buyout support, modern equipment upgrades, and white-glove implementation.

RESULT

Lamplighter School saved 30% on their copier/printer technology and received a check from Revolution Office to cover all remaining lease obligations. This translated to $48,000 in total savings, allowing the school to redirect funds back into classroom and student resources—supporting their mission without compromising quality.
